Premier McGuinty Congratulates EcoVu

21-July-06: The Honourable Dalton McGuinty, Premier of Ontario and Minister of Research and Innovation, congratulates EcoVu's President and CEO, Ray Novokowsky on the highly successful Ontario Centers of Excellence CRESTECH project. The province invested $200,000 of the $525,000 project led by EcoVu and the Consortium which included Carleton University, Algonquin College, NWRI, Ministry of Environment, City of Ottawa, Caduceon Environmental Labs and Entente Environmental Group.

"The Ottawa Life Sciences Council is helping EcoVu. When it comes to our drinking water, people everywhere on the planet want the same thing. They want their water to be safe. Well, at EcoVu, they're developing a fabulous new technology to detect contaminants in water... So that Ontario families and families around the world can enjoy clean water every time they turn on the tap."
